Dear Health Care Professionals, Warm Greetings!

“A wise and human management of the patient is the best safeguard against infection”

Today, out of every 100 patients in acute-care hospitals, seven patients in high-income countries and 15 patients in low- and middle-income countries will acquire at least one health care-associated infection (HAI) during their hospital stay. On average, 1 in every 10 affected patients will die from their HAI.

According to the World Health Organization, HAIs account for 2 million cases and about 80,000 deaths a year. In India 1 in 4 are at risk of developing hospital acquired infections.

For the maintenance of strict infection control practices and ensuring adherence to norms, adequate training is essential. A periodic re-enforcement of practices, exploring the hurdles and solving the challenges with the help of planned training may be the key to ensure effective preventive practices. Such enhanced and upgraded training should be considered as an integral part of preparedness for infection prevention. Hence the conference and workshop is organized which presents health care professionals with knowledge and skill with an exceptional sequence of presentations and simulated training related to infection prevention and control.
